Instructors will do everything within the limits of safety to coach each student to success, however, there is no guarantee that you will be able to complete this course successfully. Instructors are required to release any student who presents a safety hazard by failing to respond to coaching, for not wearing proper riding gear or if they cannot safely meet the objective of an exercise. If you are released or leave for any reason, you forfeit your tuition.

POSSIBLE NEXT STEPS

If your instructor recommends additional training, you will be provided options that may include repeating the same course or enrolling in a different course, or both. The tuition fees for additional courses apply.

If your instructor feels you would benefit from slower-paced, more individualized practice they may recommend a KickStart class in addition to retaking a beginner permit course. You can sign up online or contact the office if you need assistance. After you take the KickStart you will register to for a beginner permit course. You will receive a $50 discount on a beginner permit course upon completion of the KickStart. Our office will assist you in signing up to retake the beginner permit course with your discount.

If your instructor feels you will be successful retaking the same course, you will need to register to take another course and pay the tuition fee.
